John Howe

Know all Men by these Presents, That I, John Howe of Mendon in the County of Worcester and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, a Man, being of sound disposing mind and memory, do make and publish this my last Will and Testament, to wit:

First, I devise, give and bequeath to my wife Elizabeth Howe, in trust and for use as hereinafter specified, all my real and personal estate of every description, I constitute her sole guardian of my children during their legal minority and each of them, expecting her to provide for them in all respects, with the help of said property to the best of her ability, as they would be if I were living. It is my will, that after paying my just debts and funeral charges, she should hold, manage and dispose of the said property, both principal and income, in such a manner as her necessities and substantial comfort with those of our minor children, may justly require, that for these purposes, she should hold, manage and control said property independently in her own absolute right, free from all interference of any husband or other person whomsoever during her natural life. And this bequest and provision I make in lieu of and as superseding all rights of dower provided by law.

Second, It is my will, that if any of my property, bequeathed in trust and for use to my wife as aforesaid, shall remain after her decease, such remainder shall be divided equally between our then surviving children; and that if any one or more of them shall have deceased before that time, leaving a child or children to inherit for them, such child or children shall receive the portion which would have fallen to the parent if then alive.

Third, I ordain and appoint my beloved wife Elizabeth Howe, sole executrix of this my last Will and Testament.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal and publish and declare this to be my last Will and Testament in the presence of the witnesses named below this Twenty eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and fifty eight.

John Howe (seal)

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the said John Howe as and for his last Will and Testament in presence of us, who in his presence and in the presence of each other, and at his request, have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses.
